"How Will You Die?" is a record-breaking Hellboy fan theory (aka a theory that you will watch every part of Hellboy 3 every single day for the next month and then pass it on to somebody else in exactly the same way, 24 hours a day, for the next month, and then pass it on to somebody else for the next month, etc). This theory is one of the most popular in the Hellboy community. Click here to watch the Trailer and then find the movie. It's a safe bet that you will watch it. How Will You Die? - Library Reviews. A new Hellboy theory challenge. In a whole month, you must finish the Hellboy 3 movie (or at least the end of part one) every single day. This means that every day, you watch the end of one part of Hellboy 3 and then pass it on to someone else so that the person you are passing it on to watches the end of the previous part of the movie as well. This means that you need to pass it on every single day, and your followers can only watch the end of the movie after you have finished it. This means that you must finish the movie in one month, one day at a time, until it is over. Hellboy 3 is a 300 megabyte movie with an accompanying 1.2GB and 3.2GB download, so getting this down will take a bit of your time. This is not a challenge that you can just "cram for". You need to do more than just watch the movie. You need to pass on the theory of how to finish the movie, and you need to finish watching the movie, so you must research the theory, and if you do that, you will probably finish it in the month. Every day, you must put your progress up on this website. You are encouraged to discuss the theory with your followers, and you are more than welcome to post screenshots of your progress to this website, and make them public. Hello, and welcome to the Hellboy fan theory known as How Will You Die? This challenge is for one month from today until the movie finishes. This challenge will record the progress you make during this month, which will 82157476af
